PETERSBURG, September 24, 1888.

The police are on the lookeut for two negro men who are charged with felonious assault, committed in this city on Saturday night. John Henderson is charged at the committed of the commit with striking and maining Douglas Lockett with a "billy." Lockett's face is considerably disfigured. Hugh Coleman is alleged to have choked and beaten his landlady in a brutal manner. Both parties have so far escaped arrest and, it is believed, have left the city.

A petition will be presented to the Common Council on the 1st of October by the police praying for an increase of pay. This petition has been circulated through the community and has received the signatures of many tax-payers. The pay of our police corps, both officers and privates, is much smaller than is allowed in other cities of the Commonwealth and is not commensurate with the services required of the men.

Mr. William L. Zimmer, chairman of stood he will purchase helmets and belts for the corps. As soon as these arrive the police will appear in their handsome new uniforms.
